

WEE CHANGES CRACKER IMPACT

BY RACHEL FULLERTON

VOL 1 / DEC 2021

I am very excited to share with you some ideas and resources to enable us to live a waste-less life. At first reading it may appear like there is substantial content and much to be worked on but please choose one area in your home/life and start by making one change e.g., switch from a plastic to a bamboo toothbrush or use a refillable water bottle - it can make a difference.

Once you are happy with the change you have made choose another area. Please use up what you currently have and make sustainable swaps only when you need to buy new products. I have tried to include suggestions of sustainable brands (some I have tried but others I haven't) where there is availability of various sustainable products. I look forward to hearing what you try and what other ideas/suggestions you have.

My hope is that we can encourage and motivate each other to make responsible eco friendly sustainable choices.

Thanks for reading, Rachel

BEDROOM

BEDDING

This may include, pillows, bed sheets, duvet covers, and mattresses. Opt for natural fibres such as wool and cotton that will eventually decompose. Some ideas include Kapok pillows with organic cotton covers. Yala, Plover, Undercover Living and the Natural Bed Company are all ethical providers of bedding. If needing to replace mattress try a natural fibre organic coir mattress.

CLOTHES & SHOES

Try to recycle, shop fair trade, charity shops, eBay, vinted, Depop and clothes swaps. Some high street stores such as Zara, New Look, M&S and H&M are beginning to produce a selection of clothes that are from recycled materials or organic cotton. Sustainable tights are currently pretty expensive but some companies that produce them are; Sweedish stockings, People Tree & Thought.
